

TRYPS

PRODUCTION TICKET SALES COMPETITION

The best way to sell out a show is to tell everyone you know,
“I’m in a show. Come see it!”

The best way to raise the money necessary to keep TRYPS flying high is to email everyone you know to come and see the plays.

The potential ticket sales if we sell out every public performance:

TRYPS LITTLE THEATRE (70 seats for each show) = $7,350

LAUNER AUDITORIUM (450 seats for each public show) = $12,600

ROCK BRIDGE HIGH SCHOOL (500 seats for each public show) = $14,000

Our average box office is $6,000 for public performances.

Ticket sales are the best way to showcase our students and fundraise for TRYPS.

As a special incentive to get you talking up each wonderful production...

The cast member who has the most ticket purchases in their name wins a $100 certificate to TRYPS – for classes, camps, and show tuition – and the 20’x30’ show poster. In case of a tie – winners will split the $100 and each receive a show poster.

For a purchase to count toward your total, only the box office will keep a tally.

Friends, family, neighbors must tell the box office at the time of purchase.

No purchase counts after the show.

Remember – the ticket sales contest is only good for public tickets.

School groups attending a weekday performance don’t count for cast member totals.

Write your name on the back and tell people to turn it in at the box office with the number of tickets purchased written on the back. Use the email postcard to tell friends to come to the show.

Tell them to let the box office know they’re buying tickets because of Y-O-U.

PEOPLE MUST TELL THE BOX OFFICE AT THE TIME OF PURCHASE OR IT DOES NOT COUNT!

The box office will keep a tally sheet. The winner will be announced at the cast party.
